

KOURTNIE JONES
AGE 13/JEFFERSON JR. HIGH

Kourtnie has shown herself to be an innovative and strong leader. She is very involved in her school and community and has accomplished so much in 13 years. As the 2023-2024 Jr. Miss Grapette, she rang the bell for the Salvation Army, raised money for a court member with cancer, and spoke at the Madison taste test contest when her court elected her to be the lead speaker. She painted a residential wheelchair ramp with her youth group at Eagleville Bible Church, helped clean the church playground, volunteered at Lights on the Lake of Ashtabula County, raised money for the Geneva food pantry and provided food and blankets for the homeless. Kourtnie says making people smile brings her joy.

Kourtnie excels in school, achieving a 4.0 GPA. She takes high school Spanish classes and is a member of National Junior Honor Society, student council, and the cheerleading squad. She signed Rachel's Challenge, participated in the power of the pen in 7th grade and became a published author when her work appeared in Young Writers "Fright Club Midnight Mayhem."
