LOGAN MILLER
AGE 17
A-TECH

Logan Miller exemplifies exceptional leadership and dedication, having revitalized the previously inactive A-Tech FFA chapter. As chapter president, he advocated for meetings, events, and projects, inspiring increased student participation and helping establish a strong foundation for the chapter's continued growth and success. Under his leadership, the chapter hosted numerous activities that engaged students in meaningful agricultural and leadership experiences, demonstrating his ability to motivate and guide peers while fostering a sense of community and collaboration.

Over the past two years, Logan has actively pursued hands-on experiences that deepen his knowledge and skills in agriculture, conservation, and outdoor industries. He has job-shadowed a local game warden, gaining insight into wildlife and resource management, and has also gained practical experience working on a dairy farm through A-Tech's early placement program. In total, he has accumulated over 1,000 work-based learning hours, reflecting his strong commitment to real-world learning and professional development.

Driven, principled, and hardworking, Logan consistently goes above and beyond expectations. His accomplishments reflect a combination of natural leadership, dedication, and initiative, making him a role model for his peers and a valuable contributor to his school and community.
