BRADY VENCILL
AGE 17 EDGEWOOD HIGH SCHOOL

Brady most strongly embodies the characteristic of innovative spirit. From a young age, he has had a natural drive to create and bring his ideas to life through art. Over the years, he has developed skills across many mediums, including acrylics, charcoal, oils, digital art, clay design, 3-D printing, and more.

His creativity extends far beyond the classroom. Brady has illustrated a children's book currently in the publishing process, designed the cover for another published book, and is now writing and illustrating his own children's book collection. He also launched his own Etsy shop, where he sells original artwork and commissioned pieces as a young entrepreneur.

Brady uses his talent to serve others and his community. He has painted murals for a terminally ill child, created memorial portraits of beloved pets, designed shirts for school groups, and contributed to community projects like the ODOT snowplow art program. His work has earned top placements in multiple exhibits, and he is currently ranked first in a national art competition.

In addition to his artistic achievements, Brady is involved in varsity tennis, National Honor Society, FCA, Athletic Council, and the Principal's Advisory Board. Despite his many accomplishments, he remains humble and focused on using his creativity to make a meaningful impact on others.
